

Predicts Tax Collecting Plan Will Be Killed

Washington March 8 (AP) — Sen. Mundt (R-S.D.) predicted today Senate opponents of President Truman's plan to reorganize the tax-collecting service will muster the necessary 4 votes to kill it.

He said in an interview the President's letter sent to the Capitol yesterday in support of the plan was a "brazen effort to divert attention from conditions of graft" in the administration.

Other senators opposed to the plan to reshuffle the scandal-plagued Internal Revenue Bureau were not so certain it could be defeated. One privately told a reporter it would be possible to muster 51 votes against it if all 51 members opposed turned up when the showdown comes next week.

But this same source pointed out it almost never was possible to get all senators in attendance and that every absentee in effect was a vote for the plan.

The law governing reorganization measures requires a majority of the full membership, or 49 votes, to reject a presidential proposal.

A second letter the President wrote yesterday met similar reaction on Capitol Hill. In it he informed Rep. Chelf (D-Ky.) that the Justice Department had neither time nor personnel to provide Chelf's House subcommittee with a long list of data it requested on tax cases.

Truman said he was backing Atty. Gen. McGrath's refusal to supply such information by ordering all government agencies to turn down any such requests by the subcommittee.

The subcommittee in investigating the Justice Department, accused of laxity in prosecuting tax law violations. The subcommittee had asked for a list of all cases in the past six years which the department had failed to prosecute, delayed action on, or sent back to the agency which originally recommended action.

The President wrote Chelf that he had "no wish to obstruct" any "legitimate inquiry. . . I am just as anxious as anyone else—probably more anxious than anyone else—to find out if there is anything wrong in the Justice Department" and correct it.

But Truman said Chelf's request is so broad and sweeping in scope that it would seriously interfere with the conduct of the government's business. "It would cost millions of dollars," he added.

Hempstead Is Ideal for Dairying

"We can grow into one of the better dairy sections of Arkansas through using improved practices available through out united efforts," says local dairyman Autrey Wilson and County Agent Oliver L. Adams.

Tuesday night, March 11 at 7 o'clock the dairy meeting to get all interested individuals and groups working together will be held. The meeting will be conducted in the Hempstead county courtroom.

University of Arkansas Extension Dairyman T. P. Head will be the feature speaker. Mr. Head working with dairymen and dairy organizations all over Arkansas is the dairy leader of the state.

The Arkansas Artificial Breeding Association owned by the dairy farmers of Arkansas has 25 or more of the better bulls of the breeds favorable for use by all farmers of the state who organize to use the service at a reasonable price. In addition the state group has the services of Brown Swiss and Milking Shorthorn sires service available through cooperation with Missouri organizations of dairymen. Mr. Head, working closely with the state organization and dairymen in the field knows the results of the outstanding breeding service to the dairy industry of Arkansas.

All farmers who have and who need home farm dairy cows for family use and all commercial dairymen are invited and expected at the Tuesday night dairy meeting. All 4-H club youth who have a dairy heifer and all who want a dairy heifer will want to attend the meeting with their father or community leader.

No activity offers more opportunity than the production of quality dairy products including the production of quality dairy heifers and young cows says County Agent Adams. Hempstead county farmers are in a very favorable position if they desire to meet the pressing favorable needs that exist now and the future years.

The people of Yemen build structures of many stories and claim that they originated the skyscraper.

STANDS COLLAPSE — An estimated 246 persons were injured, 17 seriously, when three sections of a wooden stand at the Fifth Regiment Armory in Baltimore collapsed prior to the opening of an ice show.

23 Indicted on Various Dope Charges

San Francisco, March 8 (UP) — The indictment of 23 members of an alleged narcotics ring here will "crack the heart of the nation's narcotics racket," United States Narcotics Commissioner Harry J. Anslinger said today.

The 23 persons, including mobster Waxey Gordon, were indicted yesterday by a federal grand jury on evidence they supplied millions of dollars worth of heroin to addicts from coast to coast.

The single indictment carried names of alleged peddlers in New York, New Jersey, Illinois, Minnesota, Arizona, Nevada, Oregon and California.

Head of the ring, according to the indictment, was Irving Wexler, alias Waxey Gordon, 63-year-old ex-beer baron of New York City during prohibition days. Wexler is now serving a 25-year-to-life sentence in Sing Sing.

Another five named in the indictment are serving time or are under sentence for narcotics violations. The others are expected to be taken into custody within 48 hours, narcotics agents said.

"This is the biggest collection of important violators ever included in one indictment in the nation," said Ernest Gentry, district supervisor for the Bureau of Narcotics.

A federal narcotics agent, Michael Picini, joined the gang in late 1950, posing as a dope peddler, and successfully made a number of sales to some of the higher-ups, agents said.

Horse Meat Deals Brings Retirement

Chicago, March 8 (UP) — Dr. Herman Bundesen was on an indefinite leave from his post as Chicago Board of Health president today, while the state's attorney's office drew up an indictment charging him with malfeasance and nonfeasance in Chicago's horsemeat scandal.

Mayor Martin H. Kennelly granted the nationally-known physician the leave of absence yesterday after Bundesen submitted a letter in which he told Kennelly "I am guilty of no wrongdoing in the conduct of my office."

The indictment against Bundesen was ordered by State's Attorney John S. Boyle after a Cook County Grand Jury investigating an alleged multi-million dollar horsemeat racket reportedly named Bundesen in a true bill.

The indictment was expected Monday.

Immediately after Boyle's announcement, Bundesen, accompanied by Attorney Richard B. Austin, went to the mayor's office. A long conference ensued.

When Bundesen and Austin left, the mayor was emotionally shaken. Bundesen had tears in his eyes. The statement which expressed the highest confidence in the veteran health chief and called on Chicagoans to do the same.

"Because of his past record, I am sure the citizens of Chicago will withhold judgement on the charges made against Dr. Bundesen until he has had an opportunity to answer them," the statement said in part.

The true bill against Bundesen grew out of the widespread horsemeat scandal in which millions of pounds of horsemeat allegedly have been passed off on an unsuspecting public in Illinois and neighboring midwestern states.

The Cook County Grand Jury was but one investigative body engaged in looking into the scandal originally turned up by Office of Price Stabilization agents.

A primary concern of all the investigations has been to discover whether the alleged sales were conducted with official connivance.

U. S. Foreign Policy Rapped by Fulbright

Omaha, March 8 (UP) — The Korean war might well have been avoided if "we had taken the firm position . . . that we would fight to prevent the Communists from taking the country by force," Sen. J. W. Fulbright (D-Ark.) said here last night.

Instead, he said, "we failed to include Korea with the defense perimeter which we regarded as essential to the defense of Japan and the Pacific."

Fulbright made the remarks in his second address in the Baxter Memorial Lecture Series at the University of Omaha.

The Arkansas senator criticized the United States for its lack of a long-term foreign policy. And he called upon the citizens of this country to make and keep a long term program in foreign affairs.

Taft Appears to Be Gaining Backers Say

By The Associated Press

Presidential candidates and their backers turned on higher-voltage oratory and personality today in an effort to attract voters in Tuesday's New Hampshire "preference" primary.

With only two days of campaigning left — not counting Sunday — political caravans crisscrossed the little state with brief stops at almost every city and hamlet.

Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio told a Manchester audience last night that, while his own position is well known, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower has taken no definite position on any issue. "It was the strongest attack Taft has yet made on the general's candidacy in New Hampshire."

Harold E. Stassen attacked Taft, saying Taft has been silent on his record on foreign policy, which he said has been "wrong" for the last 12 years.

Democratic Sen. Estes Kefauver accused the Republican party of losing the peace by persuading the country "that our future lay in isolation."

President Truman rested up in Key West, Fla., preparing to stump the country, whether he seeks reelection or not. He is expected to announce his decision later this month.

Two Southern senators — Byrd of Virginia and Maybank of South Carolina — said the South will have a deciding voice in who the next president will be and what platform the Democratic party adopts. Both are supporting Sen. Russell of Georgia for the nomination.

Field Trials Near Finals

Booneville, March 8 (AP) — Bill Wade, owned by W. J. Farmer of Bastrop, La., is one competitor to be reckoned with in the National Amateur Quail Field Trials near here.

Bill Wade turned in an outstanding two-hour hunt in chilly weather yesterday. He was paired with Lindsay Jr. of Norman, Okla. Bill Wade made no finds, while Lindsay's Poochie had only one find, but made an excellent showing.

Delivery Doctor, owned by Herold German of Reading, Pa., also won favorable mention. Pay Lode ran with Delivery Doctor, had flushed his only find and chased the birds. Pay Lode is owned by John M. Hoover of Salem, Ill.

Rrierson's Luminary Dude, owned by A. F. Frierson of Bristol, Okla.; Beeye's Mississippi Belle, owned by Grady James of Oklahoma City; Agenda, owned by Dr. F. R. Scroggin of Dry Ridge, Ky.; and Coco-Tan, owned by Dr. F. R. Scroggin, also competed.

Two Breakins Investigated by City Police

A couple of breakins last night were reported by the Hope Police Department but so far as could be determined nothing is missing.

The panel in a door at City Lumber Co. was knocked out and the door opened but nothing seemed to be missing owners said. At Frank's Fruit Store a pane had been smashed and a window raised. Several weeks ago someone broke out the same window and took some small change from a cash box.

L. L. Watson, 701 N. Main, reported to police yesterday that two guns, a 38-cla. pistol and a shotgun, were stolen from his auto the previous night.

Lait's Book Brings Many Libel Suits

Boston, March 8 (AP) — Massachusetts book dealers were being deluged with requests today for the book "U. S. A. Confidential" following a state police drive to withdraw it from public distribution.

And the authors of the book which purports to describe conditions in various parts of the country — Jack Lait and Lee Mortimer — were being threatened with libel suits elsewhere.

State police advised book dealers and lending library operators against selling or renting the book in the unprecedented drive.

The book deals in part with political conditions in Massachusetts, touches on crime and morals in the city of Boston and in certain educational institutions and names public officials, including Governor Paul A. Dever.

Murphy said the State Police had "received complaints from various sources about the book being foul, libelous and obscene."

But a check of district attorneys' offices and the office of the attorney general showed no complaints filed and no action planned against the book.

In New York, Lait said the action appeared to be a case of "revenge" for what the book said about Bay State politicians and police. He denied the book was "foul, libelous and obscene" and declared it contained a "fair and true report" of the conditions the authors found in Massachusetts.

He said "we don't propose to ignore it."

Samuel Post, executive of the Crown Publishing Company of New York, urged booksellers to defy the state police order.

In Tulsa, Okla., Sheriff George Blaine said yesterday a $500,000 libel suit will be filed against Lait and Mortimer for describing Tulsa as "practically lawless" and criticizing Baine's law enforcement.

Blaine, an active leader of youth and church groups throughout the nation, said he wasn't concerned "with what happens locally; everyone knows the untruth of it."

Perhaps the Most Profitable Treasure Hunt of Today Is Carried Out in Family Homes

By HAL BOYLE

New York, March 8 (AP) — Looking for some, easy money?

"Go for a treasure hunt in your own home," advises Hans M.F. Schulman, one of the world's largest dealers in rare coins.

"Some people have valuable collections of old coins and paper money and don't know it. Money left behind by earlier members of the family and kept as souvenirs."

Most of this is worth only its face value, but old coins and bills that are rare and in good condition are sky-rocketing. That is because the number of American numismatists — as coin collectors call themselves — has jumped from 25,000 to about 30,000 in recent years.

"Paper money today is heavily collected because old coins are getting scarcer," said Schulman.

"Old U.S. bills are in particular demand. Those dated from 1862 up to 1879 are worth at least double their face value, even in poor condition, and often much more."

Around 1875 the mint pulled a boner and let get into circulation more than 100 bills printed $50 on the front and 100 on the back.

"There are probably a number of these lost or hidden away in attics or other places," said Schulman. "And they are worth today more than $1,000 apiece."

Confederate money also is enjoying a mild boom, but it still is considerably more anemic than the standard Yankee dollar, even in the South.

"A $500 Confederate government bill that use to bring $1 now may sell up to $4," said Schulman and added:

"But, please don't send me any. They printed too many."

Schulman, whose family for three generations have been coin dealers in New York, also commented:

Ship Hearing May Delay Morris' Probe

Washington, March 8 (UP) — Newbold Morris' appearance before Senate investigators next week may delay his government cleanup campaign, informed sources said today.

President Truman's anti-corruption chief has been called by the Senate's Permanent Investigating Committee to testify on shipments of oil for Soviet Russia by a Chinese-financed company represented by Morris' New York law firm.

Chairman Clyde R. Hoey (D-NC) said Morris probably will testify Tuesday.

Sources close to the cleanup program said Morris' testimony, which may last more than one day, likely will delay completion of a questionnaire requiring key government officials to list all their sources of income. Morris had hoped to finish drafting the questionnaire by early next week as the first major step in his campaign to weed out wrongdoers in government.

Meanwhile, Sen. Karl E. Mundt (R-SD) said the Senate group made possible the use of American ships in the government surplus find out if "postwar Pearl can surplus ships to haul oil from an Iron Curtain port to Communist China under charter to the Soviet oil bureau."

Mundt said testimony indicated the navy approved the trips and that the state department okayed them at the same time former Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson was urging that they be stopped.

The committee has called William Thorp, assistant secretary of state, and L. James Falck, a State Department shipping official, to testify Monday.

David B. Jarvis, New York shipping agent who arranged the Soviet charters, told the committee yesterday he thought that naval intelligence "rather approved" of the trips in 1949 and 1950. He said neither it nor the central intelligence agency objected and that both interviewed crew members who made the voyages behind the Iron Curtain.

Jarvis said he got a verbal okay from Falck in the State Department before arranging the charters in June, 1949. Two months later he asked for written confirmation but never got a reply, he testified.

Truck Overloaded 90,700 Pounds

A special roving weight crew, Ruggles and Hughes, yesterday arrested the driver of a truck that was 90,700 pounds overloaded. The truck, operated by a Little Rock company, was hauling heavy pipe line equipment and was stopped just out of Hope on Highway 67.

Fines in overload cases generally run around $45.50 plus court costs.

Shooting Not Connected With Fortune

New York March 8 (AP) — Attorney Sol A. Rosenblatt says he sees no connection between the attempt on his life and the legal fight to oust him as sole heir to a fortune.

Rosenblatt, 51, was shot in the thigh Thursday night by an unknown gunman outside his Park Avenue apartment. The assailant, who hit his target with one of three shots, escaped in a waiting car with another man.

Police say the gunman and his motive are a mystery.

The attorney was named as sole beneficiary in the will of Mrs. Eleanor Morgan Satterlee, grand daughter of J. P. Morgan the elder. Mrs. Satterlee, who died last year at age 48, left an estate estimated at from $35,000 to several hundred thousand dollars.

The will is being contested by the woman's sister, Mrs. Mabel S. Ingalls, who charges Mrs. Satterlee was influenced by Rosenblatt and psychiatrist Dr. Richard H. Hoffman.

Police were working on a theory that the assassination attempt may be connected with later troubles involving Rosenblatt, who is a partial chairman of New York's huge cloak and suit industry.

But David Dubinsky, president of the AFL International Ladies Garment Workers Union, said the shooting did not involve labor disputes — "not by the widest stretch of imagination."

Evening Shade Program Planned

Shading services for the city of Hope will be provided by the new Hope Shade Program. The program is being organized by the Hope Shade Committee, which has been formed by a group of local citizens.

The committee has been working on a plan to provide shade for the city of Hope. The plan is to plant a large number of trees in the city of Hope. The trees will be planted in the streets and in the parks of the city of Hope.

SECOND TRIP — Evelyn Hamilton, first entertainer to return to Korea for second USO tour, packs her bag in New York. The young entertainer says her only regret is that baggage restrictions make it impossible for her to take along the outgrown clothes of her 5-year-old son to give to Korean youngsters.

Union Leaders Call Off Gas, Oil Strike

Denver, March 8 (AP) — Union leaders have agreed to call off a potentially paralyzing gas and oil industry strike set for midnight tomorrow.

Officials of 22 CIO, AFL, and Independent unions acceded to President Truman's request for a postponement of the walkout yesterday. The strike was called in support of wage increases and other benefits. In West Virginia, however, a CIO union representative insisted last night that as far as his state was concerned, there "is no postponement" of the walkout. The official, Harry Drenner, said at Charleston that 2,000 natural gas workers in West Virginia will leave their jobs as originally scheduled.

The nationwide dispute involves some 250,000 workers. It has been referred to the Wage Stabilization Board by President Truman.

There was one report today that a new strike deadline has been set didn't confirm or deny the report, came from Erle Brown, director of District Four of the CIO Oil Workers International Union at Beaumont, Tex.

OWIU headquarters in Denver didn't confirm or deny the report. A spokesman said there had been talk of a new deadline, but that he had no statement to make at this time.

O. A. Knight, OWIU president, was not available for comment.

Knight was the last of the top union officials to agree to the postponement.

A strike would seriously affect production of fuel for industry and motorists and for some house heating.

The unions are demanding a wage boost of 25 cents an hour, increased differential movements and other improvements and benefits. The average wage is now $2.10 an hour.

Former Hope Man Hit by Car, Dies

John Adam Cupp, aged 70, former resident of Hope, was struck down by an automobile in Texarkana about 10:30 last night and died an hour later. He regained consciousness.

Texarkana police are holding a 30-year-old Marshall, Texas, man for investigation in connection with the accident.

He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. B. E. Barrett of Dallas, and two sons, Floyd of Dallas and Cupp of Texarkana. Two sisters, Mrs. Arch Turner and Mrs. Cupp of Spring Hill, two brothers of Bloomburg, Texas, and Cupp of Hope.

Funeral services will be at 2:30 p. m. Sunday near Ar.

Broiler Growers Call Special Meet March 10

The Hempstead County Broiler Growers Association will call a special meeting of the Chamber of Commerce by sponsoring a meeting at 7:30 p. m. on March 10 at the court room of the county house. The purpose of the meeting is to discuss broiler production and financial matters and with prizes.

All people in any phase of broiler production are invited to attend this important meeting of the Hempstead County Broiler Growers Association.

Booneville, Tenn., compound used with the meat.

Hempstead Clubs to Attend State Conference

Four communities in Hempstead county plan to be represented at the first annual Community Leaders' Conference to be held in Little Rock, March 10 and 11. This group includes delegates from Ozan, St. Paul, Green Laseter, and Liberty Hill communities planning to organize during the current year.

Program for the conference has been planned by the three sponsoring groups — the Agricultural Extension Service, Arkansas Power & Light Co. and the Arkansas Press Association.

District and state awards in the program will be made at a special recognition banquet at Marion Hotel the evening of March 10. The afternoon and morning program will be built around special sections giving communities opportunity to exchange ideas on the community improvement program.

Home Demonstration Agent Lorraine Blackwood said today that eight phases would be covered in the special meetings, with the schedule arranged so that each delegate can participate in four.

Topics to be covered include: (1) Organization's part in developing community programs, (2) community services, (3) community health, (4) community recreation, (5) the influence of diversification or cash farm income, (6) soil improvements, conservation, and pasture development, (7) family food supply, and (8) landscape improvements.

Those from Hempstead county planning to attend the meeting include: Mrs. Monroe Stuart, Mrs. James Lewis, Mrs. D. B. Drago, Mrs. Irvin Betts and Lorraine Blackwood home demonstration agent.
